

misc_scratch

Architect

A digital note taking application for writers, DMs, and those who simply like diving deep into literature and fictional worlds.

Features

- Create a world using pre-made templates or make your own from scratch
- Support a library of user made templates for worlds, towns, and characters in various different styles
- Organize towns or characters on a node based map, with the ability to click on one to expand it
- Create different districts within a town and populate them with characters. Pre-made templates will act somewhat as a color by the numbers, while free form allows boundless self expression
- Make characters using templates from a user based repository or create your own for whatever level of detail you need
- Flip to list view to use traditional organizational methods like alphabetical, ascending, descending, or choose to group certain entries by tag
- Keep track of different aspects of a character or town on one large sheet, or expand it into tabs for ease of organization
- Upload art to use as character icons or inspiration
- Upload music and create themes for specific areas or characters